COMPREHENSION

(Passage 1)

(Direction 36 to 42) Read the passage carefully and select the option in the question given:

The health of our environment is under ever greater pressure from the burning of fossil fuels and deforestation. It has caused the most critical threat to the survival of human and all living things.

Global warming, our rapidly warming climate cries out for solutions to these problems.

Deforestation has crippled the healing abilities that our ecosystem needs to support life. More than 90% of America's old growth forests are gone and are still being cut, and at least 80% of the world's forests have vanished. The forest that remain have been decimated by segmentation and clearing - cutting or are being attacked due to the effects of global warming.

Trees safety and store excess carbon dioxide from the atmosphere and give off oxygen required by all living things. Tress regulate our climate, clean our water, provide habit, foods, medicines and perform many other essential life sustaining functions.

We believe that replanting forests with the best available tree genetics on a massive scale is a critical activity that can begin to mitigate many of these challenges. Saving the genetics of the great trees that still exists may hold the key to benefits of trees that are yet unknown to science.

The survival of humans and all forms of life, is at stake.

(Passage 2)

Read the passage carefully and select the correct option in the given questions :

True, it is the function of the army to maintain law and order in abnormal times. But in normal times, there is another force that compels citizens to obey the laws and to act with due regard to the rights of others. This force also protects the lives and the properties of law-abiding men.

Laws are made to secure the personal safety of a country's citizens and to prevent murders or other crimes of violence. They are made to secure the property of the citizens against theft and damage, as well as to protect the rights of communities and castes to carry out their customs and ceremonies so long as they do not conflict with the rights of others. The good citizen, of his own free will, will obey these laws and take care that everything he does is done with due regard to the rights and well-being of others. But the bad citizen is only restrained from breaking these laws by the fear of the consequence of his actions. The necessary steps to compel the bad citizen to act as a good citizen are taken by this force. The supreme control of law and order in a state is in the hands of a minister who is responsible to the State Assembly and acts through the Inspector General of Police.
